

Let's talk about enrichment. Our pets need enrichment activities to help ensure that they are staying healthy and fit both physically and mentally.

Some common enrichment activities include snuffle mats, licky mats, playing ball, chasing a laser, etc...

Here are the top 3 most popular enrichment activities we use for our pets and our boarding pets:

Enrichment

1) Licky Mats. We use plain Greek yogurt, fresh fruit, peanut butter, and treats. They provide novel entertainment and can be a comfort for anxious pups.

2) Laser. The infamous red dot. Our cats love to chase the laser. This provides them with entertainment and exercise.

3) Sniffing exercises. This is a new one for us. I have taken some different tufts of animal hair and hidden them throughout the property. Sniffing is an excellent source of mental and physical stimulation.

Microchipping

Every day there are posts on Facebook and Nextdoor regarding lost pets. It breaks my heart! For me, this serves as a reminder to have our pets microchipped. Microchipping allows rescuers to contact you by taking the animal in question to the vet or a local pet store to be scanned for a chip. It's a good investment and great peace of mind!

UPDATED PRICING EFFECTIVE MARCH 1, 2023

This month marks our 18th month in business in Midlothian! We've been hesitant to raise prices as our competition has done, but with the state of the economy, we're forced to institute a modest price increase. However, we remain committed to working with you! If you need creative payment options, don't hesitate to reach out. We will always work with you to find care that will fit your needs and budget.
